

Adult Language Learning Licence from Access Copyright

A comprehensive Adult Language Learning Licence from Access Copyright enables instructors to have the freedom to incorporate copied material from a variety of sources, without requiring authorization from the individual authors or content creators.

If your Adult Language Learning Centre has a print photocopying licence through Access Copyright, The Canadian Copyright Licensing Agency then these guidelines are for you to follow for your non-coursepack print photocopying. Guidelines are available for coursepacks should you compile material from more than one publication for use in your classes. Please contact all@accesscopyright.ca to obtain these guidelines.

Non-Coursepack Print Photocopying

What is a copy?

A “copy” is a print copy made in the form of a photocopy, fax, acetate, or slide. For the sole purpose of making classroom presentations, a digital copy may be made for inclusion in, for example, a PowerPoint presentation (no further copying or transmission is allowed).

What can you copy?

You can copy up to 10% of a published work or the following, whichever is greater:

- 10% of a publication or an entire essay, poem, play, article, or short story.
- An entire single item of print music from a book or periodical issue containing other kinds of work.
- An entire chapter, provided it is 20% or less of a book.
- An entire reproduction of an artistic work (including drawing, sculpture, painting, prints, architectural works of art or works of artistic craftsmanship) from a book or periodical.

Copying guidelines

- One copy per student plus two for the instructor and such number as are required for administrative purposes.
- No logging requirements for non-coursepack print photocopying make it fast and convenient.
- No assembly of any copies into a coursepack made under the non-coursepack print photocopying terms of the licence (please contact all@accesscopyright.ca for coursepack guidelines).
- No systematic or accumulative copying beyond the licence limits.
- Include on at least one page of all multiple copies made the international copyright symbol (©), a credit to the publisher, the artist or illustrator of any artistic work reproduced (where known) and the author or authors (where known).
- When possible, display the following notice: “This material has been copied under licence from Access Copyright. Resale or further copying of this material is strictly prohibited.”

Excluded Works

This is a partial list. For a complete list, please refer to Clause 3 of your licence. Your Access Copyright licence does not cover:

- Works listed in the Exclusions List (your Licence Administrator receives an updated list twice a year that you can post above any photocopiers).
- Works for which copyright is held by your adult language learning centre.
- Crown or provincial publications except Quebec.
- Unpublished works.
- Originals of artistic works.
- Publications containing a notice which expressly prohibits reproduction under the authorization of a licence from a Reproduction Rights Organization.
- Published workbooks, work cards, assignment sheets, tests, examination papers, and any other published works intended to be “consumable”.
- Instruction manuals including teachers’ guides.
- Advertisements and letters to the editor.
- Print music published for use by choirs, orchestras, bands, etc.
- Newsletters.
- Business cases which are available for purchase.

Need a digital licence?

If you need to copy from digital to print; print to digital or digital to digital, you may request a digital licence. Digital royalties are set by individual rightsholders, and vary according to the exact works used. Digital licence requests can be submitted by e-mailing your request to permissions@accesscopyright.ca or by using our Rights Management System (RMS) at www.accesscopyright.ca.
